

Threadgold Consulting brings Sidertrade's AI tech to SMEs

London, United Kingdom – 18 May 2020 | Sidertrade, (Euronext Growth: ALBFR.PA) the B2B Artificial Intelligence platform, is proud to extend the value of their AI platform, leveraging a new partnership with Threadgold Consulting.

Forward thinking SMEs across the UK will now have a cutting-edge accounts receivable solution within their grasp, thanks to a new partnership between AI firm Sidertrade, and Threadgold Consulting.

Threadgold Consulting is a specialist ERP consultancy, enabling businesses to use cutting edge SaaS products for efficiency, scalability, intelligence, and risk reduction. They also develop innovative proprietary solutions. Karl Threadgold, managing director of Threadgold Consulting, says the decision to partner with Sidertrade was easy, thanks to Sidertrade's long history of delivering powerful accounts receivables (A/R) platforms based on AI technology.

"We are excited to take advantage of these enterprise-grade technologies for our customers, to augment the capabilities of their cloud-based ERP. We're looking forward to bringing the power of Sidertrade's solutions into the savvy and sophisticated SME market," said Mr Threadgold.

Sidertrade supports CFOs with challenges such as improving working capital, accelerating cashflow generation and reducing bad debt. Sidertrade receivables solutions provide cashflow visibility in real time, improve collections, and increase customer satisfaction by resolving disputes faster.

Aimie, Sidertrade's artificial intelligence assistant, automates A/R, generates credit management team workloads, and recommends the most effective customer dunning strategies. Aimie also takes on and automates many of the large-volume, repetitive tasks associated with accounts receivable, freeing up staff time for value-added work.

"There is huge potential to scale up significantly across specific ERP user communities. Our partnership will create a new entry point for smaller but scaling companies to get the edge over competitors. AI gives scaling companies a better handle on cash management, which means they can be less reliant on loans and other external funding. It also helps them show potential investors that they have responsible customer relations and cashflow, making them a more attractive investor opportunity," says Sunil Pandit, partner and alliances lead at Sidertrade.
